A Special Message from Ms. Vanessa

Dear Families,

This school year has been an incredible and special one for me. As I got to grow with your little ones and build new friendships with families for my seventh year, I have also been growing a little one of my own. I have shared this news with students—some of their reactions were better than my own friends!—and I want you all to feel comfortable asking questions. If all continues to go well, my last day before maternity leave is estimated for Friday, June 3rd.

Until then, you may see me more often in the office as I am preparing for Conferences, Graduation, Summer Camp, new enrollments, and much more for Summer and the New School Year. You may see a new teacher or two, but we will introduce them when the time is right and we will also introduce them in the newsletter.

Dad-to-be and I are beyond excited (and nervous) but we want to thank everyone that has already shared kind words of support with us!

-Vanessa and A.J.
